Liz Graham-Yooll (originally from Pembroke, SW Wales) studied painting in Florence, Italy. She has continued to live and paint in Tuscany with the great attraction of landscape painting in beautiful and stable weather, with wonderful light. Now that she and her husband have discovered "La France profonde", in SW France, she is finding new inspiration in the Constable-beautiful countryside and in the local market produce. After a successful solo exhibition in November 2009 at 54 The Gallery, this is the second time that she is exhibiting here.
